Hi Allan

I acknowledge your apology but I won't be meeting with you.

I can just tolerate you discounting my opinions and treating me with that vague sense of amused disdain, because mostly I don't care what you think of me, but I will not ever accept being physically or emotionally intimidated.

You frightened me in that moment. I hope you feel like a big man.

Hi,

I'd like to apologise for spitting the dummy at you in the management team this morning in person, I should not have let my frustration out like I did, so if you have some spare time today, can we talk

Al
